

Making Sense of Literacy Data: Connecting What We Measure to What We Teach

In this Washington State sponsored professional learning series we will explore how to efficiently and effectively use district and classroom assessment data to inform literacy teaching and learning for all students.

You will:

- Examine what current district and classroom assessments measure.
- Explore assessment resources that address decoding and comprehension measures.
- Adjust core literacy instruction in response to classroom data trends.
- Use individual assessment data to inform the instruction of struggling readers.

Instructor: Angie Schoenbeck, Regional Literacy Coordinator for NWESD

Who:

Grades K-4 educators, curriculum directors, principals, and TOSAs. We recommend you attend in district teams.

Cost: Free

18 clock hours available for $41

Contact: Anita Garcia to register.

360-299-4044
agarcia@nwesd.org

Location & Dates:

NWESD:
1601 R Ave
Anacortes

Dates: Jan 21, Feb 18, Mar 18

Time: 8:30am - 3:30 pm